Art Unit: 1742

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-11 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of copending Application No. 10/520,602. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the sliding valve nozzle of the '602 application meets the requirements of the nozzle of the instant claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1742

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over French 2,659,880 (FR'880) in view of Lauener. FR'880 teaches a molten metal dispensing arrangement including a first upper container (1) and a second lower container (3) where the first container includes a ring shaped blade (8) fixed to the base of the first container around a molten metal discharge aperture (5) with a nozzle (6) protruding therefrom, and where the lower container includes a gas sealing means in the form of a sand joint (9) and gas introduction means (13), thereby showing all aspects of the above claims except an outlet sleeve extending from the second lower container elastically pushed upwards into contact with the nozzle (6). Lauener teaches, that in order to provide a more secure connection between an upper first container and a lower second container, it was known in the art at the time the invention was made to employ elastic means in the form of helical springs (96) to secure an outlet sleeve to a nozzle. Because a secure connection between the first and second containers would also be desirable in FR'880, motivation to include the elastic means and outlet tube of Lauener in the system disclosed by FR'880 would have been modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.
